Conference Preparing to Return Home.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
LONDON, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—It was learned from an official source today that the Powers are quietly advising Turkey to abandon Adrianople and to accept in principle the terms offered by the Balkan Allies. Diplomats admit the situation is extremely delicate because the military element at Constantinople and the Young Turks are urging a renewal of hostilities.

The peace envoys conferred at their various hotels today and sent numerous telegrams to their several governments. Some of the plenipotentiaries are preparing to go home, ostensibly to spend Christmas, but in reality to consult with government heads, and obtain final instructions.

Conference Adjourns.

LONDON, December 24.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The peace conference was adjourned over the holidays today. It is believed that the Turkish plenipotentiaries will reject the terms proposed yesterday by the Allies, and the Powers may be called upon to break the resultant deadlock. It is believed here that the resumption of hostilities is unlikely. Jealousies between the Allies are reported to have developed.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 24.—(By Associated Press Cable)—District Prosecutor Miller in court here today challenged the counsel for the alleged dynamiters to say that either Munsey or Hockin are innocent of the charges made against them by the government. There was no reply to his challenge.

TRENTON, December 25.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Finally, after a long session, the President-elect will call an extraordinary session of the United States next March, Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, yesterday afternoon, announced that he had decided to set March 15 as the date of an "extraordinary session."

"This session, he states, will be to consider the problems of general tariff revision in all its schedules. His announcement comes following conferences between himself, William Jennings Bryan and other Democratic leaders."

WILL WIDEN OUT NUUANU AVENUE JOG

Supervisors Give Instructions for the Work to Proceed—
Those Minutes.

(From Wednesday Advertiser.)

The land turned over to the county by the Dowsett Estate in Nuuanu Valley, near the entrance to the Country Club grounds, to be utilized as a part of the avenue, will be worked upon in a few days, the board of supervisors at their noon meeting yesterday instructing the city engineer to proceed with the construction.

The road at this point forms a dangerous jog and the piece donated by the estate will widen out and make the road of proper width. The board passed for third reading the resolution appropriating $250 for lighting Kalakaua avenue parkway by ornamental lights suspended from poles, which are to be seen in mainland cities where art has taken precedence over mere utility.

The board passed for third reading a resolution calling for $510, including a few hundred dollars for a storm drain in Kaimuki, and $3950 for a bitulithic pavement from the end of Queen-street bridge to the Hackfeld wharf.

Deputy City Attorney Milverton has made a suggestion which the new board of supervisors may adopt in order to reduce the amount of time spent in reading the clerk's minutes. He suggests that a committee on minutes be formed whose duty will be to go over the minutes before each meeting, and if they are satisfactory, to make a report to that effect, the board adopting the committee's report.

Much valuable time is wasted in the reading of minutes of the previous meetings. On Monday night the clerk read up the minutes of several meetings, forty-five minutes being consumed by this operation.

The Pope deplored the attempt to assassinate the Viceroy of India at Delhi.

His Holiness looked remarkably well, in spite of the arduous labor of receiving many delegations, who had come to bring him the greetings of the season.

NO ADVERTISER TOMORROW.

Christmas day is the one day of the whole year when the presses of The Advertiser are stopped, when the evening finds darkness in the editorial rooms, when the lively linotypes are silent. For three hundred and sixty-four days The Advertiser has appeared at the breakfast tables of Honolulu. Tomorrow, the three hundred and sixty-fifth day, there will be no edition of this paper. Christmas Day is The Advertiser's holiday, its only one in the yearly calendar.

ROBBERS MISS RICH LOOT IN STRONGBOX

Hold Up Train, But Safe Defies
All Efforts to Break
It Open.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

SPRINGFIELD, Illinois, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Booty worth $50,000 was the prize missed by the bandits who held up and attempted to rob the Chicago and Alton passenger train "Hummer," near Illinois Junction, four miles south of Springfield last night.

In the safe, which resisted five attempts to break it, was money, jewelry and other valuables, it was said by the express company officials today, and it is believed the would-be robbers had an inkling of the value of the Christmas treasure the train was carrying from Chicago to St. Louis and Kansas City.

As clever in eluding the officers as they were bold and deliberate in holding up the train, the robbers have apparently escaped.

The robbers worked forty-five minutes in the express car, giving a switch engine carrying officers time to reach the scene. When the robbers heard the engine approaching, they fled, firing a few shots at the officers.

The express car safe was badly shattered, but was not opened.

PASSENGERS IN PERIL OF LIFE

Steamer Driven Ashore on the Jersey Coast—Blizzard
Grips New York.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
ATLANTIC CITY, New Jersey, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Driven before a blinding blizzard, the United Fruit steamship Turrialba went on the shoals off Egg Harbor light, early today.

The position of the vessel is dangerously exposed and lifesavers are standing by, while tugs are en route to pull the ship off.

The Turrialba is reported to carry sixty passengers. She left Costa Rica early in December at top speed, the captain hoping to land his passengers in New York by Christmas Day.

No excitement is reported among the passengers. There are one hundred men in the Turrialba's crew.

It is not expected that relief boats can reach the wrecked steamer before tomorrow, as the weather shows no sign of clearing.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NEW YORK, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The liners America, George Washington, La Poland, Rotterdam, Martha Washington and several other steamers from East Indian and South American ports, are held off Ambrose lightship today by a howling gale.

HILO QUARANTINED BY SAN FRANCISCO

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

SAN FRANCISCO, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—An order issued today by Dr. J. W. Glover, quarantine officer at this port, states that in view of the occurrence of three deaths from bubonic plague at Hilo, Hawaii, and in accordance with instructions from Washington, all vessels arriving at San Francisco from Hilo, or having touched there, will be fumigated unless they present a certificate showing that they have been fumigated at Hilo. This fumigation prior to their departure must be done by the officer of the public health service stationed at the island.

Whether or not the vessel will be allowed to discharge her cargo before fumigation will depend on the nature of the cargo and the condition of the vessel, to be decided by the quarantine officers.

The plague cases referred to did not take place in Hilo, but were discovered last week in Kukuiahae, many miles from Hilo. They were investigated by Doctors Trotter and Pratt on their last visit to that district, and there is no serious aspect to the situation. These cases, it is thought, are but another appearance of a disease that has sporadically appeared on that coast for a number of years at rare intervals. No new cases developed since these three.

MORE HARVARD HONORS FOR LOWREY JUNIOR

Alan J. Lowrey has been elected second marshal in his class at Harvard. As all know who are familiar with customs at Harvard, a choice as a marshal in the senior class is one of the biggest honors that can come to an undergraduate. The position of first marshal went to Percy Wendell, the captain of this year's championship football eleven, thus continuing a pretty well established practice at Cambridge.

Lowrey has been a leader in many lines of activity. He is captain of the tennis team, and has played baseball and soccer. He is president of the Student Council, on the executive committee of the Union, and also of the Forum, a new organization at Harvard. He has also been president of his class. He is also now president of Phillips Brooks House, thus being the head of the organized religious and philanthropic work of the university. He is also prominent socially, having membership in many clubs.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, and prepared for college at Punahou.

Harrison Henry, brought back here from Los Angeles to serve a term of one year in the federal prison and to pay a fine for perjury, appeared yesterday and took the poor man's oath and was released. He had served his term and an additional thirty days for the fine. United States Marshal Hendry interested himself in the case and arranged with the Matson Navigation Company so that Henry will be able to work his way back to the mainland and his relatives.

POLICE MAKING ARRESTS OF NATIVES

Many in Custody, But No Trace of Would-be Assassin of Viceroy.

BULLETIN OF PHYSICIANS OUT

Indications Are Baron Hardinge
Was More Seriously Hurt
Than Supposed.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

DELHI, India, December 24.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The attempt on the life of Baron and Lady Hardinge by an Indian fanatic kept the police and civil authorities of the Imperial City of India occupied today. A large number of persons have been arrested. It has been proved that at least 150 were gathered at the back of the premises from which the bomb was thrown.

In the vicinity also was a dense crowd of natives. No special arrangements had been made for the occasion and only the ordinary native police commanded by British officers were on duty in the streets. There are scores of theories.

Some believe that the attempted assassination was the work of a Bengalee, who was trying to avenge what he considered an insult—the removal of India's capital from Calcutta to Delhi.

A bulletin this morning by the doctors in attendance on the Viceroy says: "Baron Hardinge had a restless night. It was necessary to relieve his pain with injections of morphine. He suffered little fever last night and none was present this morning. It was found through the operation last evening that the muscle under the shoulder blade was rather severely torn."

SANTA CLAUS VISITS BIG POST FIRST TIME

Two Big Christmas Trees for Children of Schofield Barracks.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, December 24.—Late this afternoon Santa Claus made his first appearance in this military post and stayed an hour in the hall of the Spanish War Veterans, to the great delight of about fifty children of the officers and soldiers of the First Infantry and First Field Artillery, to whom he dispensed presents, candy and also oranges, apples and other goodies dear to the hearts of the little ones.

The hall had been especially decorated and prepared for his reception, and a small stage at one end of the hall had a fireplace constructed in the rear wall for the convenience of Santa. The walls were draped with flags and greens and with holiday regalia. The silken colors of both regiments were displayed on either side of the stage. The tree was the largest which could be gotten into the hall and was heavily laden.

When all invited guests were present, and while the orchestra was playing, Creelins, master of ceremonies, extinguished the lights in the hall and lighted the candles on the tree. He announced that Santa Claus was due, and almost immediately the tinkle of sleigh bells was heard outside and the old gentleman in person made his advent through the fireplace.

He was hailed with acclaim by all the youngsters for the hour he remained, making a lavish distribution of Christmas gifts impartially to all the children. He finally bid them farewell for another year and took his departure for other parts of the garrison.

Evening Celebration.

This evening, at seven o'clock, began the entertainment under the auspices of Major Pruden, chaplain of the Second Infantry, in the regiment's amusement hall. This was a Christmas tree celebration for the children of the Second Infantry, and all children of the post Sunday school.

After a short religious service by Chaplain Pruden, the curtain on the stage was lifted, revealing a splendid Christmas tree, beautifully decorated with many festoons of small electric lights. Santa Claus then made his appearance through a convenient chimney and, with the assistance of several persons, brought in a great quantity of Christmas gifts.

Santa Claus announced that these were for all good children, and, judging by the response, there were no others present, for all were remembered, and many small arms were overladen, requiring assistance from parents to carry all the gifts. It took a long time for Santa to complete his offices, and when all had been made happy he took his departure amid the shouts of the youngsters.

The hall was crowded with several hundred persons, and Chaplain Pruden arranged for all to pass out through the main exit, when each person was presented with an appropriate remembrance.

Frederick S. Stratton, collector of the post of San Francisco, said in that city upon returning recently from Honolulu: "There was nothing official about my trip. I needed a rest and can say that myself and family have returned very much improved in health. We had plenty of diversion going and coming and in the Islands we played golf and had a fine time all around."
